

Welcome to Tver State Medical Academy

Bazhenov D.V.
Vice Chancellor for international students

Welcome to our medical academy, an institution replete with tradition, values, enthusiasm, quality and international prestige.

Our educational model is student-oriented. Opportunities to learn for yourself and to participate in a research project are highly recommended. Throughout your medical training you will witness many very rich opportunities to exchange opinions and ideas with classmates from different countries, thus increasing your awareness of cultural diversity and placing you on the correct tract to treat patients of different cultures.

In our renowned Program of Medicine in the Community, opportunities to increase your clinical skills abound. Your participation in supporting the underserved population will be enormously appreciated and of immense benefit to you. You will be one of the foreign students who develop, practice and master bilingual skills while also developing skills related to humanism, professionalism and altruism.

The Tver State Medical Academy works arduously to assure that at the end of your training you will be a physician with a special profile: a knowledgeable, dutiful, clinician, communicator, researcher, and long-term learner for the benefit of your community.

he City Tver Central Federal District Tver Region

Tver region is the largest of the 11 regions of the central Russia. Its territory is 84100 square kms and it includes 36 administrative districts, 23 towns & 8941 small villages. Population of Tver region is 1.6 million people.

The City of Tver (formerly called Kalinin from 1931 to 1990) was founded in 1246, it was the capital of a powerful medieval state and later the typical provincial town of the Russian Empire.

Tver is advantageously situated in the European part of Russia, between the two Russian capitals — Moscow and St.Petersburg. Tver is a river port on the Volga and a large railway station with connections to Moscow, Saint Petersburg, Rzhev, and two important highways “Scandinavia” and “Baltiya”. Bologoye is an important railway junction. It takes 2,0 — 2,5 hours to reach Moscow and 5 hours to St. Petersburg by train.

It borders Volgograd Region in the north, Smolensk Region in the south, Moscow Region in the east and Novgorod Region in the west.

Tver Region is an area of lakes, such as Seliger and Brosno. Much of its area is occupied by the Valdai Hills, where the rivers like Volga, the Western Dvina, and the Dnieper have their source.

Presently the population of Tver is 500000 people, the city has well developed industry, infrastructure, high intellectual, scientific and cultural potential. Tver’s most important industries are railroad cars plant, an excavation-machine factory, textile and polymer industry.

Except the Tver State Medical Academy, Tver is home to the Tver State University, Technical University, agricultural academy, Air Defense University, Tver Military School, Institute of the Russian Ministry of Internal Affairs and more than 20 colleges & schools, local branches of Moscow and St. Petersburg higher educational establishments

Climate:

The Region has moderate continental climate, transitional between continental climate on the east of European part of the country and wet climate in the northwestern regions of Russia. The Region is located in the climate zone favorable for life and recreation.

- The average daily temperature is +15 to +20° in summer, –5 to –15° in winter.
- Annual precipitation varies between 560 and 720 mm
- the most abundant rains fall out on the western slopes of the Valdai Hills

Transportation:

Public transport consists of trams, trolleybuses and marshrutkas (PAID TAXI LIKE RIKSHAWS IN INDIA).

Tourist spots:

There are many historic towns: Torzhok, Toropets, Zubtsov, Kashin, Vyshny Volochyok, and Kalyazin. The oldest of these is Rzhev, primarily known for the Rzhev Battles of the World War II.
